Protect local wildlife

Many of us set annual goals, wish lists or resolutions. For wildlife lovers, goals may include seeing a red squirrel in the wild or experiencing the unforgettable sights and sounds of a starling murmuration forming shapes in the late autumn sky.

Creating a Bucket List could be the start of something amazing: it could change your life, the lives of others, and the world.

If you love wildlife, leaving a legacy to the Wildlife Trust of your choice could be a Bucket List achievement with lasting significance.
