Protect local wildlife

Welcome to our island, as seen through the lenses of the cameras of staff, volunteers, residents and visitors.

Alderney and its wildlife provide us with a constant source of unusual and breathtaking views. These photo galleries contain a wide range of images taken by AWT staff and volunteers, as well as by resident and visiting photographers and kindly made available to the organisation, for which we would like to express our grateful thanks.

Every effort has been made to credit photos where possible and we apologise if any images have been incorrectly identified or displayed. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any images you would like us to add, or if corrections need to be made.

You can contact us directly by calling the office on +44(0)1481 822935 and asking for Lindsay or Roland or you can drop in and have a chat.
