Volunteer

Your help will be much appreciated!

Manx Wildlife Trust relies on a dedicated group of volunteers who help out in many varied ways throughout the year - and more are always welcome!

We have a wide range of tasks, so whatever your experience and skills, there's bound to be something for you - it's a great way to support MWT.

Here are just a few examples of how you could help:

- Welcome people at our Visitor Centres
- Muck in with our practical conservation volunteers - we have regular work parties on our reserves on Tuesday and Thursday mornings each week
- Help out in our Wildlife Shop
- Help out in the Wildflowers of Mann nursery, at Ramsey Forest or on a similar project
- Survey our wildlife and wildflower sites
- Help out with junior Wildlife Watch
- Come & stuff envelopes and help out in our office
- Organise a sponsored event or fundraising activity
- Do you have professional skills we could benefit from?

Volunteering for Practical Conservation Tasks:

For enquiries about practical conservation tasks on our reserves (Tuesday and Thursday work groups, mostly in the north of the island), contact our Reserves Officer, Tricia Sayle: tricia@manxwt.org.uk

For enquiries about tasks at Ballachurry in Rushen, organised by our Southern Group (work groups on Saturday mornings approx once a month), contact Janet Thompson: jthompson@manx.net

For enquiries about the Wildflowers of Mann nursery or the Ramsey Forest project (ad hoc tasks), contact Project Officer, Andree Dubbeldam: andree@manxwt.org.uk

Thank you!
