Protect local wildlife

Radnorshire Wildlife Trust (RWT) is committed to protecting your privacy. It is very important to us and we respect anyone's concerns about maintaining it. This tells you how and why we use your information.

1. Who are we?

The Wildlife Trusts are a movement of more than 800,000 members, 40,000 volunteers, 2,000 staff and 600 trustees, from a wide range of backgrounds and all walks of life.

For more than a century, we have been saving, protecting and standing up for wildlife and wild places, increasing people's awareness and understanding of the natural world, and deepening people's relationship with it.

Our roots are local. Each Wildlife Trust has been formed by groups of active and motivated people getting together to make a difference where they live and work.

There are 37 individual Trusts covering England, five in Wales and single Trusts covering each of Scotland, Northern Ireland and two Crown Dependencies. Wherever we work, we are accountable to people who live nearby.

The Trusts are supported in doing this by a central charity, RSWT (the Royal Society of Wildlife Trusts), the purpose of which is "to lead the movement's development, to build trust and to represent the interests of the movement whenever a strong united voice is required".

Radnorshire Wildlife Trust (RWT) was established in 1962 alongside Herefordshire. We became an independent charity and registered company in 1987. The mission of RWT is to rebuild biodiversity and engage people with their environment.

2. Our commitment to your privacy

We are committed to keeping the personal details of our members and supporters safe. This policy explains how and why we use your personal data, to ensure that you remain informed and in control of your information.

Any references to Radnorshire Wildlife Trust, the Trust, or to 'we' or 'us' refer to:

- Radnorshire Wildlife Trust. We are a registered charity in England and Wales, and our registered charity number is 519021.

- Radnorshire Wildlife Services Limited, our charitable trading company; (registered company number 4284093). The company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Radnorshire Wildlife Trust, which trades only to raise funds for our charitable organisation.

We use three key definitions to describe people mentioned in this policy. These are definitions used by the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK's independent body set up to uphold information rights (www.ico.org.uk)

- 'Data subject': this is you, one of our loyal members and supporters. As the data subject, we respect your right to control your data.
- 'Data controller': this is us, Radnorshire Wildlife Trust. With your permission, we determine why and how your personal data is used (as outlined in this policy).

• 'Data processor': this is a person, or organisation, who processes your data on our behalf, with your permission.

We will never sell your personal data.

3. Why do we collect your personal data?

We use your personal data to keep in touch with you.

We will only ever collect, store and use your personal data when we have an identified purpose and reason to do so. The ICO refers to this as a 'lawful basis'. Further information about why we collect your personal data is outlined below.

a) To administer your Radnorshire Wildlife Trust membership

We collect your personal data to administer your membership, which may involve:

- Sending you your membership welcome pack when you first join us
- Processing your Direct Debit subscription payments, if you have set this donation process up with us
- Sending you your membership renewal letter
- Getting in touch should there ever be any issues processing your subscription payment

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes as 'contractual'.

b) To send you information about events / event bookings

We collect your personal data to send you:

- information about events you have booked onto

The ICO define the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes as 'contractual'.

c) To send you information about our work and ask for your opinion

We also collect your personal data so that we can send you information about our work that we feel will be of interest to you. This includes your membership magazine, fundraising appeals, events, campaigning opportunities, membership, services, products, newsletter requests, feedback, competitions and other activities, as well as information about other carefully selected organisations that we work in partnership with (such as Vine House Farm's bird seed catalogue). From time to time, we may also use your personal data to ask for your opinion about our work.

This information is in addition to that outlined in sections a) and b) and is defined as 'direct marketing' by the ICO.

i) Joint and family membership

If you are a 'joint' or a 'family' member of our Wildlife Trust, we will address communications to all those listed on your membership. If you wish to update this at any point, please let us know.

ii) Gift membership

If your Wildlife Trust membership was purchased as a gift, we will use the address provided by the purchaser to send you information about our work in the post. This will include a 'renewal letter', which we will send you when your membership is due to expire, to see if you would like to continue supporting our charity.

iii) When your membership has ended

Unless we hear from you directly, we will continue to send you information about our work for up to 6 months after your membership has ended. This is just in case your support was cancelled accidentally, by for example changing your bank account details, and you wish to update your details with us.

Your personal data also helps us to get to know you better so that we can send you the information listed above in a timely and relevant way, to suit you. For example, keeping track of the donations you make to our organisation helps us to send you information about fundraising appeals that we feel you would like to hear about. Likewise, keeping a record of your wildlife interests that you may tell us about in one of our Membership Surveys, helps us to send you relevant project updates.

As defined by the ICO, we use two different lawful bases for processing your data for 'direct marketing' purposes:

- Legitimate interest

This is where we have identified a genuine and legitimate reason for contacting you, which crucially does not override your rights or interests.

We use legitimate interest to send you the information listed above by post or telephone (if you have given us your telephone number).

- Soft opt-in consent

This is where we have recently communicated with you by email and given you the option to opt-out of receiving such emails, and when you have not chosen to opt-out, we are able to continue sending you emails with the option to opt-out, until you instruct us to stop doing so.

We respect your right to update the way we get in touch with you about our work at any time.

d) To enable you to volunteer with us

If you are a Radnorshire Wildlife Trust volunteer, we collect your personal data so that we can keep in touch with you about, for example:

- changes to planned volunteer work programmes that you may be taking part in
- the positive impact you have on our work, by sending you our volunteer newsletter
- dedicated volunteer thank-you events

As defined by the ICO, the lawful basis for processing your data for these purposes is 'contractual' (where administering your volunteer record) and 'legitimate interest' (when sending you information about our work).

4. What kind of personal data do we collect? How do we collect it?

a) Basic information

We will usually collect basic information about you, including your name, postal address, telephone number, email address and your bank details if you are supporting us financially.

Most of the time, we collect this data from you directly. Sometimes this is in person; other times, it is over the telephone, in writing or through an email.

b) Getting to know you better

We also collect information about you that helps us to get to know you better. This may include:

- information about your wildlife interests, which you tell us through our membership surveys
- records of donations you've made towards fundraising appeals
- your preferences of how you would like us to contact you
- ways you've helped us through volunteering your time
- records of events you've attended, or campaigns or activities that you've been involved in

Sometimes we will collect other information about you such as your date of birth and gender. When we do so, we will be very clear as to why we are collecting such information, and we will only do so with your specific consent and permission.
