Be inspired...

Working with schools

Staff at our six Wildlife Trusts across Wales support and enhance learning in schools each year. We have accessible and inspiring locations, experienced dedicated staff and great community links.

We provide inspirational, effective learning experiences for schools' staff and pupils at every level and across a huge range of subjects.

The nature and extent of Trusts' work supporting formal sector learning is decided locally. Examples of the type of work carried out by Wildlife Trusts includes improving school grounds for wildlife, guided visits to nature reserves, providing resources for educators, school membership schemes, visits to schools and more.
