“Restaurant POSEIDON of Kokkari Samos is named after the god of the sea “Poseidon” or “Neptune” and offers the widest variety of Seafood recipe dishes. On entering POSEIDON, guests experience the inviting living room and the extensive religious corner filled with Byzantine icons, painted by Mrs Paraskevi Galiatsatou. The décor of the restaurant includes hand-made old furniture, embroideries, potteries and paintings that have been gathered through time, with the diligence and attention of Mrs Paraskevi Galiatsatou and Mrs Vassiliki Vergini.

The atmosphere reflects the charm of Samian hospitality. The décor truly captures the feel of the Samian house; when combined with Grandma’s explicit dishes, guests appreciate the original Samian dining experience.

Poseidon’s menu features many Samian dishes, as well as selections that have been modernized through the innovative blending of cultures and techniques.
