If you are new to the profession and are just starting out to qualify as a trade mark attorney you will need to follow a new qualification route. This new route encompasses a requirement to learn the detail of the law along with the practical application of that law to real life scenarios. In addition to undertaking the qualification courses, a student who wishes to qualify as a registered Trade Mark Attorney will be required to complete a Statutory Declaration confirming that they have the relevant experience required, as set out in the Patent and Trade Mark Attorney Qualification and Registration Regulations published by IPReg.

PI see rule 150 of Trade marks rules 2002.you can become a trademark agent if you pass the trade mark agents exam conducted by the trademarks registry or else pass the LLB exam and enroll yourself as an advocate,then you are exempted from the above exam to register as a trademark agent.No experience is required for appearing at the exam.but you should be well versed with trademarks act and rules.
