If the area is residential and your privacy is disturbed and lot of nuisance is being created making your peaceful living disturbed ,you can file a complaint as well as a mandatory suit.

Make a formal complaint first to the Municipality or Corporation informing them the use of the residential property as commercial godown and wait for a month for their action, after one month seeking information on action taken on your complaint, then issue legal notice both to the owner and Municipality/corporation for violations. Contact a local advocate for bringing an injunction against such use of the residential property as a godown.

That depends upon how you agitate the matter in court, the court can grant you some relief.
