Dr. Vijesh

Although, my blog was created last month, I dont find any reason to blog... and to be a blogger... Now i got a reason...

My Registration for Ph.D., has been accepted by MS University just few days back... and the registration formalities completed...

I am able to hear your question about the Topic... Yes being a Banker and business consultant for banks travelling across globe, thought of doing a research between banking and the Technology banks use.. Hence landed up in the Topic "Technology Management in Banks" request all your inputs for the same... :) Download As PDF
