Music festival

This unmissable and internationally-renowned event, coordinated in Blois by the city's Cultural Affairs Department, brings together professionals and amateurs every 21st June, for a wonderfully festive, friendly celebration of music.

All the music venues, such as the Halle aux Grains, Conservatoire de musique and Chato'do, move into the city centre lock, stock and barrel, with their equipment and personnel, so that everyone is free to enjoy the music!

A number of podiums and themed venues are set up to facilitate concerts and demonstrations: choral singing, classical music, dancing, contemporary music... So many different musical styles and ways of performing, to the great delight of the spectators!

N.B.: an exchange system will put bars and restaurants in contact with groups and artistes looking for a spot to perform in the evening.

A programme is also published, listing all the proposed events, and distributed in the city's public places.
