HELEN BRAYBROOK

Engagement and Events

Helen Braybrook is responsible for engagement and event activities.

Helen Braybrook graduated with a Bachelor of Arts/ Bachelor of Science from Monash University in 2014. Upon completion of her zoology major, Helen was offered the role of Research Officer with the Dolphin Research Institute. There she was tasked with categorising and analysing historical data. Helen then took up a position with Monash University, to work in the education sector, managing and coordinating university outreach activities to secondary school students from low socio-economic communities.

Helen is now Stem Cells Australia's Engagement and Events Officer and will be working to strategically promote research efforts undertaken by the SCA Investigators and Affiliate Investigators, as well as coordinate SCA events.

Helen can be contacted via helen.braybrook@unimelb.edu.au
