Mad Scientist Tea Party - The Edge (Brisbane)

06:00 PM - Saturday 23 June, 2012

Dr Drew Titmarsh (courtesy of AIBN)

AIBN researcher Dr Drew Titmarsh will be hosting a Mad Scientist Tea Party at The Edge, the Queensland State Library's Digital Culture Centre as part of a program called Bioscience: Other Nature.

The program aims to bring scientists, science aficionados and newcomers together to discuss everything from micro-organisms and DNA to art and ethics.

As part of the Science Fair, Drew will be reserved a place at a table set with tea and given a chance to share his journey to scientific discovery.

Come along to hear how Drew is using stem cells in his research, his thoughts on future possibilities and maybe hear him dispell a myth or two.

When: 6-7:30pm, Saturday 23 Jun (as part of Science Fair)

Where: Outside The Edge, towards State Library, Brisbane

Cost: $10, includes a pot of tea
