

How to operate in international markets

Author:

Bitav

Languages:

English

Description:

There is a unique customs tariff position for every product group and a specific customs tariff code for each product to make an international validity identification

Specifying this codification is quite important as all operations are based on this data

Declaration of the suppliers, transporter and customs brokers are obligatory for the exporter / importer

Choosing correct import / export regime is also a part of primary liabilities.

Regimes: Permanent, temporary, free of charge, IPR
