seeker (JUNIOR OFFICER) 26 March 2013

Dear all

I am 38 years old, and want to change my career . I am working as a stores officer in a very good company drawing package of 7.0 Lacs. My job has no further learning and scope.

Education front :- I am B.com. I have cleared CPT in 2010 with 70 % marks and ICWA inter 1st group in 2006.

Finance Front :- I have 17 Lacs in saving + 12 Lacs in Fixed asset. This amount is enough of my family expense for 06 years. My wife is a teacher and can support me a little bit financially . I am living in my parents house. My two children are in 6th and 04th standard studying in very good school.

Please help me am I on a right track , I want to leave job and concentrate fully on CA Course.

My only problem is I can not do IPCC study while on job as I hate it very much.I can not concentrate on my study while doing job simultaneously. As I am very frustrated with my job.

I need your advice can I leave my job to pursue my career. Its a mid life change. It happens commonly in west but not in India. Indians wastes their life accusing their destiny.

I am interested in Coaching career and hoping to start a Coaching institute after attaining CA Degree.

I am afraid of seeing the plight of young CA's in current scenario. but I am not looking for a corporate job. If CA course is so dull

My next question is should I swith over to Mathematics as one can make his career in 3 years time if he has passion and time for that.

I require external help in mathematics and have to struggle to master but in accounts I am confident. do not require any external help.

Math is a evergreen field for coaching even for online.

I need your urgent help on above said questions. I am not a foolish still only once foolish in the eyes of world have change the world in the end.

regards

According to me , you are on a correct track..... do the same job and give priority to your family...

there is nothing to worry about you my father is working for 6000rupees salary per month in a hotel, in tamil nadu. i am studying CS to get the income like you.. but you are trying to earn more than that.....if you are not interested in your job, try start good business.. and earn millions and crores... that is the next step for your life growth..... CA is not the next step for you in your 38th age.....

Please take care your childrens.. and dont think like this.....if your start CA course or other studies, you will completely be away from peacefulness of your life...your current life is so good...do meditation..
