Sir, as it is an administrative process and sometimes gets painfully slower.

Generally, the Membership certificate is issued at the time of convocation program held for members. For November 2012 passed out candidates the convocation date is yet to be announced.

It takes close to four to six months for the decentralized office to dispatch your ID card.

You may in fact try to reach out to your concerned decentralized office or the head office to find out the exact details. You can explore the option of e-sahayatha as well to know the status.
