Hi All,

I am working in Accounts and having 7 year experience. While working with CA firm I have joined CS. I left CA firm for CS training after completion of executive program. I wanted to go for training in company but not find training at that time so Opt Practicing CS for 5 month training contract, after that due to some financial reasons go back to accounts JOB in a company to then another company. Now I am in CS Professional program and 2nd group is left and will clear in this att empt.

Now, I am confused whether to go for CS training again and look for Practicing CS or any Company for training. As I am in n accounts and getting 3.00 Lac P.A. should I go for training or continue in accounts as I check with some friends that it h ard to get the Job of Company Secretary.

Please advise with your experience.

Thanks
