On March 30 and 31 2017, the 8th APEX World conference will take place. Due to the successful edition of last year, the conference will again be a two-day event and the preparations for APEX World 2017 are already well under way. The conference will once more take place on the former cruise ship ss Rotterdam and keynote speakers this year will be Michael Hichwa - creator of APEX (Vice President of Software Development, Oracle), Hilary Farrell and Shakeeb Rahman.

The Dutch Oracle User Group (OGh) arranged that this year the evening program will be part of the entrance ticket. After the presentations, we will have dinner at the Grand Ballroom of the ss Rotterdam.

OGh has introduced a new paying system, this requires from participants to pay the entrance ticket with the use of iDeal or a credit card. For those who will be coming to Rotterdam by car, we will provide you with a parking ticket this year. You will find ticket prices in the schedule below.

The ss Rotterdam reserved hotel rooms for the guests of OGH. Book your hotel room with the use of this link.

It could be that other providers offer divergent prices. With this form you will book a room directly at ss Rotterdam.

Route to the ship

The ss Rotterdam is easy to access from all directions. These directions are indicated on the signs of the ANWB. The complete description is to be found on their website: http://ssrotterdam.com/discover-the-ship/route/?_ga=1.150634229.271996071.1479309827
