"Our battered suitcases were piled on the sidewalk again; we had longer ways to go. But no matter, the road is life." – Kerouac

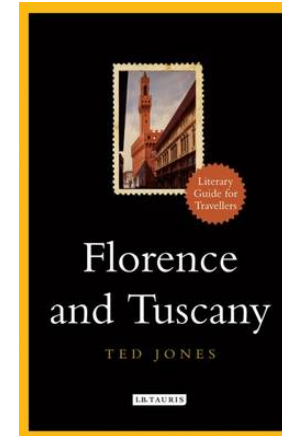

Sometimes, reading about a place can be as good as being there yourself. I.B.Tauris Literary Guides for Travellers celebrate the spirit of place through the experiences of history's greatest writers, artists and travellers. Travel the world through their eyes: from Hemingway's Paris and Cervantes' Andalucía to Patrick Leigh Fermor's Greece, Christopher Isherwood's Berlin and Ezra Pound's Sicily.
