Orders may be held for reasons including, but not limited to, inaccessible destination address, incorrect contact information or an insufficient address. ## SHIPPING METHODS & COSTS

Shipping Methods

Securr ships orders to both commercial and residential addresses. Commercial addresses are defined as business addresses situated on commercially zoned real estate, as determined by the freight carrier. Businesses operated from a house, apartment or other dwelling are not considered commercial addresses and will be charged any applicable residential delivery fees.

Calculating Shipping Costs

When placing your order, you may choose from several methods of shipment and you will be able to select the method and pricing that best fits your needs. You will see the associated costs for the method you select in your shopping cart. Please note that shipping costs may also depend on the terms of your Securr account.

Special Note on Common Carrier Deliveries

LTL Common Carrier delivery requires an adult signature at the time of delivery. It is that adult's responsibility to inspect the merchandise being delivered for damage or shortage. By signing for a shipment without notice of damage or shortage, you are accepting the product in good condition. Once the driver leaves with your signature, your ability to claim damage or shortage against the carrier is significantly reduced. Most claims against a carrier are denied if they have a free and clear delivery signature.

It is also the responsibility of the Customer to have adequate help and any necessary equipment to receive product at the back of the delivery vehicle.

Please be advised that Securr does not ship orders C. O. D.
