Laundrocart lost my item

I gave some items to laundrocart for dry cleaning and when we went to take items after few days, they said that they haven't received yet item and asked to come few days later. For 20 days, same thing happened. When I forced them to give item back they finally accepted that they lost item and offered me 3000 as per their company rules, but item cost is around 10000, so what are the options which I can use to get my money back?

Dear querist,

Send them legal notice; give them 15 days time for payment. In case they don't honor your notice file case at consumer forum.

What are the steps involve in this? Do I need to send online or need to include any law firm for this?
